The Language of Nails.

He who has white spots on his nails is fond of the society of ladies, but is fickle in his attachments. He who keeps them well rounded at the tips is a proud man. He whose nails are detached from the finger at the further extremities, and when cut showing a larger proportion of the finger than usual, ought never to get married, as it would be a wonder if he were master in his own house, for short nails betoken patience, good nature, and above all, resignation under severe trials.

Nails which remain long after being cut level with the finger end are a sign of generosity. Transparent nails with light red mark a cheerful, gentle, and amiable disposition. Lovers with transparent nails usually carry their passion to the verge of madness. If you come across a man with long and pointed nails you may take it for granted that he is either a player of the guitar, a tailor, or an attorney. He who keeps his nails somewhat long, round, and tipped with black is a romantic poet.

The owner of very round and smooth nails is of a peaceable and conciliatory disposition. He who has the nail of his right thumb slightly notched is a regular glutton, even nibbling at himself, as when having nothing eatable at hand, he falls to biting his own finger-nails. And, lastly, he who keeps his nails irregularly cut is hasty and determined. Men who have not the patience to cut their nails properly generally come to grief; most of them commit suicide or get married.—Baltimore News.

CHICAGO NEWS.

A Varied Batch From the Great City Of The West This Afternoon —A Boat Race and a Big Strike.

CHICAGO, Ills., May 30.—The morning papers say the sculling events to take place to-day at Pullman are generally regarded as exhibitions instead of races for valuable stakes. A great effort is being made to attract a crowd and it will probably be successful. The first event will be two miles with turn between Fred Plaisted and George Bubear, the latter the champion of England. This will take place at 4 o'clock. Directly after its termination Hanlan and Gadauer will appear. There is no betting because there is no money behind Hanlan.

About 5,000 German-American citizens, veterans of the war, soldiers and others, flocked to St. Bonifice cemetery this morning. The object was to witness the unveiling of the soldiers monument, a beautiful work of marble and granite. It is the first monument raised in Chicago to the perpetuity of the heroic deeds of the German-American soldiers.

The next six days are liable to witness a critical period in the great strike of the building trades. For four weeks strike has followed strike, terminating in a lock out affecting, to a greater or less extent, almost every trade in the city. Fully 17,000 men are idle, and, it is stated upon good authority, that over 1,000 first-class mechanics have left the city. A careful estimate shows that wages amounting to $90,000 have been lost to the strikers. It is impossible to estimate the amount of capital diverted from the building trades.

UNCONTROLLABLE FLAMES.

Fairmount, Ind., Threatened With Destruction by a Burning Gas Well.

WABASH, Ind., May 30.—At an early hour Saturday the watchman at the big gas well in Fairmount, entered the derrick with a lighted lantern. A terrific explosion occurred, the escaping gas having ignited. The explosion blew the cap off the pipe, and the flame from the six-inch tubing shot to an immense height.

The derrick and machinery were burned up in a few moments. James Payne, the watchman, and a companion named Rachel were dangerously burned. The town is threatened with destruction should a strong breeze start up. All attempts to control the flames have proven futile.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

MARION, Ind., May 30.—Saturday night at nine o'clock the night watchman at the gas well at Fairmount entered the derrick to see that all was well. A leak in the gas-pipe ignited from the lantern. An explosion occurred that shook the town, the cap blew off the pipe and the ignited flame leaped nearly a hundred feet high. The derrick was soon consumed. The gas is burning at the rate of 12,000,000 feet a day, and all efforts to subdue the flames have been unsuccessful. James Payne, the night watchman, was very seriously burned about the face, neck and hands.

Wurgler was a member of the Shepherd Rifles.

WHY THE PRINTERS DIDN'T WIN.

Benson's Egotism Causes Their Defeat —Partially Saved by That Other Printers' Nine.

A few weeks ago it was heralded all over the city that the printers and cigarmakers would play a game of ball. The event was set for Saturday and all had a blissful and hopeful appearance up to last Friday, when dissensions arose causing a disruption in the ranks of the club and the withdrawal of Manager Peg Miller, followed by the coterie of professionals that he was to lead to victory, including Captain McWhorter, Messrs. Moore, Evans, Kegg, Melsheimer, Ferguson, Perrin and others, thus leaving the game entirely in the hands of the "cranks" on the Journal, headed by Presumptuous Busse, Egotistic Benson and Girlish Henry Miller—no relative of Peg. They thought they could play ball but see how they got left.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the cigarmakers were on the field, at Ewing's grove, and Manager Benson, a few minutes later, appeared with his nine, which he had been practicing in the cow pound, in the rear of the jail, under the careful watch of Chief Diehl and the poundmaster, the former to run them in for tramps and the latter to save them from being trampled to death in the expected stampede of the cattle from the alleged "printers'" club.

Time was called at 3:15 p. m. with Busse for pitcher, Benson for catcher, and Cleary, Shober and Henry Miller on bases, and THE SENTINEL, Gazette and Newspaper Union printers, including Peg Miller's crack nine as speectators. Up to the fourth inning the score was a brilliant victory for the cigarmakers, Benson muffing every ball and Cleary and Henry Miller, who occupied first and third base, being as useless as mummies. The score now stood forty-three to one in favor of the cigarmakers, all was gloom with Shober and Busse, Benson could not be consoled, and they seemed ready to rush pell-mell from the grounds, when Cleary's face lit with a sudden smile, he whispered to Benson, and Benson and Busse rushed quickly to Manager Peg Miller, asking him tearfully to play out the game with his experts and offering him cases on the Journal as a reward. He refused at first, but seeing a vision of the insane asylum for Benson, expulsion from the City band for Shober and dire consequences for the others, he sent his men in the field to play the fifth and last innning. The cigarmakers in this inning never made a base. Miller's nine of printers made home run after home run, the inning closed, the cigarmakers were ahead but Captain McWhorter in one inning reduced the cigarmakers score from forty-three to one to forty-three to thirty. Don't think Benson's nine can play ball. Hereafter call on printers that can play. Kegg, Melsheimer, Moore and Ferguson did well; while Hy Perrin, Captain McWhorter and Evans won laurels, and Drummond and Baldock were fine. These last named gentlemen belong to P. Miller's Premium Printers' Base Ball club and played in the last inning. P. Miller's nine and the cigarmakers left the grove together all happy over Benson's defeat, while Benson's nine was driven to a stock car by a party of Texas cowboys and sent to New York as ungraded cattle.

ALMOST KILLED.

Fred. Upmeyer Sustains a Severe Fall At the Pennington Works.

This morning about half past 8 o'clock, Frederick Upmeyer, a carpenter, who has been for some time engaged in fitting up the new shops of the Pennington Machine Works, on East Columbia street, was assisting in placing a piece of machinery in position on the first floor near the back door. In order to get the necessary purchase in prying the machine up with a wooden beam, a strong plank was placed with one end resting in the back door and the other on a frame work about six feet from the door. Below the door is a frame chute leading down to the engine room. As Mr. Upmeyer was throwing his weight upon the beam he missed his footing on the plank, and instead of retaining his hold upon the beam as directed by a fellow workman, he let go and fell to the bottom of the chute, a distance of about eight feet, striking upon the left side of his head. He was picked up insensible and taken into the shop, and medical aid called in. An examination showed that the drum head of his left ear had been ruptured, and his ear was filled with blood. Recovering consciousness, Mr. Upmeyer was removed to the City hospital, where his wants will be attended to. The full extent of his injuries is not yet known, but the physicians do not believe that they are very serious.

Mr. Upmeyer's home is near the water works filter basin.

FLOWERS FOR HEROES.

Elaborate Memorial Services at the Masonic Temple Yesterday-- The Decoration Observances To-day.

The elaborate memorial services at the Temple opera house yesterday afternoon were of a character to inspire one with emotions for a reverential observance of this, Decoration Day.

Long before 3 o'clock yesterday every seat in the opera house was occupied, save those reserved for the Grand Army celebrants. Anthony Wayne post soon filed in and were assigned their places. Then came Sion S. Bass post 200 strong to occupy their seats.

The Grace Reformed church choir rendered an anthem and the hymn, "America;" Rev. F. F. Browne, of the Wayne street M. E. church, led in prayer; the Pinsuti quartet favored the assembly with a selection; Rev. J. C. Cromer read from the Scripture and the choir and audience sang "Nearer My God to Thee," before Rev. D. C. Woolpert, of the Berry street M. E. church, began his address.

It was masterly and strong, alotting to the soldiers' a bravery, chivalry and nobility unsurpassed in history. He condemned, in clear words, the bitter attacks and misrepresentations recently heaped on the survivors of the war, evidently aiming a center shot at the Chicago Times. His words were golden with truths and pictures of the services of the defenders of the union and honor of their country.

General Gibson, of Ohio, a distinguished soldier, was present and being called on gave his comrades some praise and the audience an idea of the part played by the boys in blue from Ohio and Indiana in the civil war. He was very eulogistic of the Hoosier soldiers, their victories and never-failing presence and valor in all the great battles and struggles of the rebellion. He put into his hearers something of a war spirit and a reminder of duty to their dead comrades, so that after benediction by Rev. D. S. Kennedy, the audience left in a mood happy to do honor to the dead heroes to-day.

DECORATION DAY.

The delightful weather of yesterday, so fondly anticipated, did not arrive. The gay colors and brighter expectations were dampened considerably, to say the least, and what promised to be the greatest observance of Decoration in the history of the city, fell considerably short of such an event.

Unfortunately the morning opened with a rain shower and later the storm fixed itself in an attitude to continue all day. About noon the clouds began to break and it was almost 3 o'clock before the promoters of the patriotic cause could decide whether to go to the cemetery or condxct services at the Temple opero hsuse.

A clear sky gave brighter assurances of fair weather, and a few moments before 3 o'clock the procession started for Lindenwood cemetery in the order named in the program already published.

The exercises over the graves of the sleeping heroes are in progress, as we go to press, in the presence of a vast crowd, not forgetting the vast multitude that viewed the procession as it left the city.

Second Presbyterian Church Made Happy.

Yesterday was a good day for the Second Presbyterian church. Having been for some time without a pastor, the congregation became somewhat scattered and discouraged. In addition to this there was a debt of $825 hanging over the church. Under the present pastorate the congregation is increasing in numbers and interest every day and the whole church, realizing that it has a work to do, has gone to work with earnest spirit which means success. Although they have been almost straining themselves this spring in a financial way, yet they have been anxious to free the church of all indebtedness, and leave no hindrance in the way of progress. The board of trustees believed the time had come when the church must move forward, and that the people were willing to make still greater sacrifice. Hence an attempt was made yesterday to raise the amount of the indebtedness. The pastor preached on the subject, "Christ at the Contribution Box," and then an opportunity was given to meet Him there. This they did cheerfully and liberally, and in about fifteen minutes the subscription list amounted to $847:55, thus wiping out the debt, and leaving a surplus to begin a building fund. This was beyond the most sanguine expectations of all, and, with grateful hearts the church feels that the blessing of God is resting upon it.

As the church membership was not fully represented yesterday, an opportunity will be given those who were absent to add their contributions to the list now in the hands of the trustees, and thus a nucleus for a building fund will be formed.

DECORATION DAY.

How It Is Observed In The Great Cities.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The streets in the lower parts of the city to-day were deserted and there was general suspension of business. All public buildings were closed; the post office was open till 10 o'clock and the streets in the vicinity of Union Square and Madison Square were crowded with pedestrians. A large number of people went to Riverside park and Gen. Grant's tomb. Thousands came from New Jersey and Brooklyn to witness the parade.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—All the banks, courts, chamber of commerce and public offices were closed on account of Decoration day. The G. A. R. posts paraded to the depot early this morning, where they took cars for Spring Grove, where Decoration service was observed. A heavy rain began to fall as the cemetery was reached and continued so as to prevent the carrying out of the program.

BALTIMORE, May 30.—Though not a legal holiday, Decoration day was generally observed. The graves in Green Mount, Western Baltimore, Laurel (colored) and others were decorated. Thousands visited the cemeteries. There seemed to be a greater desire than ever before to do honor to the dead soldiers.

SELLS' BIG SHOW COMING.

Brilliant and Novel Attractions!

A GRAND GALA DAY EVENT.

Sells Brothers, the famous millionaire showmen, have perfected arrangements for the appearance of their titanic tented aggregation in Fort Wayne, Thursday, June 16.

For years the Messrs. Sells have occupied the highest pinnacle in public esteem as liberal progressive amusement purveyors, and right royally have they merited the people's confidence and support. From all accounts their show of this season is the largest, most brilliant, comprehensive and sumptuous organization of their long and eminently successful career.

There is a double menagerie that teems with rare and costly zoological specimens. Gymnic and equestrian science disport themselves in three rings and on a huge theater stage; a soul stirring revival of the ancient Roman hippodrome, wherein sixty English and Kentucky thoroughbreds are brought into requisition, and Pawnee Bill's historical "Wild West" show, comprising troops of noted scouts, cowboys, Indians, vaqueros, bucking bronchos, and other adjuncts of frontier civilization. One of the features of Pawnee Bill's performances is an intensely vivid reproduction of "the Battle of the Little Big Horn," in which the heroic Custer lost his life. The redoubtable Sioux chief, "Rain-in-the-Face," will be one of the actors in this mimic battle scene. The hippodrome races and border representations take place on an enormous ellipse that encircles the rings and stage, and which enables the horses to attain the same degree of speed as on a regular race track.

Mr. L. J. Bobilya went to Akron, O., to-day.

DROWNED HER BABE.

Sarah Jane Gunter Drops Her Child Into the St. Joe River to Hide Her Shame.

Some days ago THE SENTINEL called attention to the mysterious flight of Sarah Jane Gunter and the subsequent finding of the girl at the poor house, nursing her illigitimate babe.

Jonah Gunter, her father, who is a well-to-do Koscinsko county farmer, was grief-stricken at the discovery of his daughter's misfortune and shame, but once more offered his child the shelter of his home. She at once began preparations to go to the old homestead, and being penniless, she wrote Wm. McNulty, the alleged papa of her child, a saucy note ordering him to send a carriage to the asylum for herself and little one. The vehicle responded Friday and Miss Gunter and her cherub came to the city.

The sad sequel is to follow. Fearing to take her babe with her to the scenes of her innocent childhood she decided to drown it. Following the St. Joe river, from the East Main street bridge, Saturday afternoon, she stopped at the bend, near Mr. Baker's residence, and in the ripples, a few blocks below Rudisills dam, she dropped her unnatural offspring into the river. The baby boy was but eight weeks old and without a cry was soon swallowed up in the swift current, under the eyes of its heartless mother, who had wrapped a fascinator about its head and face.

The body floated down stream a short distance and drifted to the shore, where Henry Stapleford found it.

Miss Gunter had striven to dispose of her child to Dr. and Mrs. Sites and at several other places, so that when the discovery was made it was easy to locate the crime and point suspiciously at the young woman, as she had been at Mrs. Besanson's residence, out on the St. Joe road, and stated she gave the baby to a farmer for adoption. From Mrs. Besanson she went to a Mrs. Noonan, on Duck alley.

Coroner Dinnen was notified and ascertaining the woman's name sent for Supt. John Wilkinson, of the County Infirmary. It was learned that Miss Gunter, in company with McNulty, who is a shoemaker at 217 Lafayette street, sought lodging at the Washington house, corner of Calhoun and Washington streets, Saturday night.

From the Washington house Miss Gunter went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, on Montgomery street. It was late and they kindly gave her lodging for the night. She denied having a child to them, and in the morning left, going direct to Mendel Franks' resort, on Hanna street, and at this place she was arrested.

She at first said the child accidentally fell from her arms, but on being pressed she admitted, amid sobs, her guilt and was accordingly locked up to await a hearing.

The girl is about twenty-four years of age and as she is subject to epileptic fits, insanity is pleaded in extenuation of her crime.

Miss Gunter was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Ryan at 3 o'clock and was bound over for trial.

Mr. Wm. R. Nelson, editor and proprietor of the Kansas City Star, is in the city to attend the funeral of his brother, Sheriff DeGroff Nelson.

Mr. Charles A. Davis, representing Sells' Brothers circus, is in the city to-day contracting with the newspapers for the appearance of their show on June 16.

Edward Knebs and family returned from Kenosha, Wis., this morning, where they attended the funeral of Mr. Edward Knebs, which occurred last Wednesday.

The first colored man ever elected Mayor of a town north of the Ohio River is Isaiah Tuppins, of Reedville, Ohio.

SENATOR CAMERON is too much of a dyspeptic to indulge epicurean tastes to any great extent, and after a substantial dinner is obliged to fortify his stomach against the inevitable pangs with something a good deal stronger than water.

IT has been settled at last that George Washington wore at his inauguration a dark-brown suit made at the first woolen mill ever established in America. His white silk stockings were also of home manufacture. Anglophobia did not prevail extensively in this country at that time.

CHIEF OF POLICE LEANDER BROWN, Madison, N. J., was recently made the father of triplets, and immediately gave them the names: Leander Cleveland, John Grover, and Leonora Frances, and then notified the President. An autograph letter expressed the thanks of the Executive.

ACCORDING to the British Chancellor of the Exchequer there are ninety-five persons in England with an income of over $300,000, or about $30 an hour. Yet it is said that these very wealthy people are really poor. Their responsibilities are always involving them in expenditures which it is difficult for them to meet. They manage their wealth, but not to enjoy it.

A PARTY of three hunters who were out after deer in Tehama County, California, a short time ago, found, while following a trail, that they were in turn being followed by a gang of six or seven mountain lions. They quickly beat a retreat, but the lions followed until they nearly reached their homes, sometimes coming within a rod or two of the party, but scampering at a shot.

A SOLID silver hatchet found recently in Sonora will soon adorn the museum of Princeton College. It weighs 100 ounces, or a little over eight pounds, and as bullion is valued at $1 an ounce. It is four inches in length, is wedge-shaped, and was evidently hammered by some prehistoric people. It was brought to San Francisco, and was purchased for $1.50 by Henry G. Marquand, who will present it to his college.

FREDERICK SCHMALZ, a London inventor, came to America about twelve years ago, and perfected several useful inventions. His first American patent was for enameling watch dials, now used by the Waltham Watch Company. Schmalz had an uncle in Metz who closely watched his progress. During the past ten years Schmalz amassed $2,000,000. Schmalz's progress so pleased his uncle that when he died he left him all his property of over $4,000,000 and several chateaus in France and over $1,500,000 worth of real estate in the Southern States.

A LOUISVILLE young man, who is traveling in Europe, writes to his people at home some points of his experiences in Scotland. He states his daily expenses for himself and compagnon de voyage at the Waverly Hotel, Glasgow, as follows: Bedroom, 24 cents; boots and service, 24 cents; breakfast, 54 cents; dinner, 48 cents; supper, 48 cents; total per diem, $1.98 for the two, against $3 to $4 at a Louisville hotel of like class for one person. Among his incidental price investigations he found that a "good" silk umbrella cost him $1.25, while the price of "a very fine one" was $2.30. Fine kid gloves for gentlemen were 50 cents a pair. The Glasgow street cars have stairways to the roof, and passengers have their choice of riding amidship or on the upper deck. The rains were continuous. A denizen being asked if it ever stopped raining, replied: "Yes, indeed; it sometimes snows!"

SECRETARY WHITNEY has decided to order the repair of the United States steamer Hartford, now at Mare Island, California. It is good to know that this historical old vessel, which was Farragut's flagship during the war of the Rebellion, is to be preserved for years to come. According to the appropriation of the last Congress of $200,000 for the repair of wooded vessels, the Hartford can have its share, as it has been decided that the repairs will not exceed 20 per cent. of the value of the ship The old vessel is said to be good for many years of cruising yet, and it has borne such a noble part in the service of its country that every American will be glad to know that the Stars and Stripes are to float at its masthead for many years to come. The ship on which Farragut was nailed to the mast and which carried the great Commander through the stirring perils of some of the greatest naval combats of the war will always be a source of interest and pride to the patriotic people of this country. Like Old Ironsides, whose fame and memory are entwined in the history of his country, the Hartford should be kept as long as its timbers will hold together.

MONARCHS OF THE PLAINS.

A Determined Fight for the Mastery Between Two Buffalo Bulls.

[San Francisco Call.]

The most remarkable incident in my buffalo experience was a fight between two buffalo bulls over on the Cannonball River in Dakota, and of which I was the sole and lucky witness. I was riding slowly up a knoll thinking of anything but buffaloes, when I heard the most awful bellowing and crashing just ahead, as if all pandemonium had turned loose to scare me out of my five senses. My horse reared and plunged, but quickly dismounting I lariated my steed, and between creeping and crawling managed to secure a safe observatory from which I could view the circus then in progress. Two powerful buffalo bulls were going it hammer-and-tongs in furious efforts to butt each other's brains out. They had a little arena all to themselves, the rest of the herd forming a circle around, watching but not interfering, but waiting to drive the vanquished from the field in disgrace. Talk about your bullfights in Spain, your 1,000-pound bulls battling with little matadors. No arena of ancient Spain, or Rome, or modern Mexico ever had two such fierce combatants face to face, nor has the tug of war and the fight for mastery ever been so determined and fierce as between those two monarchs of the plains on the Cannonball River. There had only been one crash before I took my reserved seat, but the concussion and crack of the blow might have been heard a mile. The fun had only just begun. After the first whack the two champions sort of backed and eyed each other for a second crash. Then they lowered their heads, pawed the ground viciously for a few seconds, and came back at each other like a pair of freight-trains coming from opposit direction on the same track. When the heads came together this time it was with a dull thump which led me to believe one or both craniums had been cracked on the first round. There they stuck—the two heads—and then both bulls began to push with all their might. The dogged, stubborn pushing lasted some minutes, until the white froth began to drop in long, tenacious strings from their lips, and the red eyes to glare through what appeared to be clots of blood. Somebody was hurt, for the crimson was dyeing the white froth as it fell to the ground. This dead set of strength could not last long. The tendons were standing out like ropes across the thighs and along the thick necks, and every moment was telling upon the short wind and straining of both antagonists. Although much of a size, I could see that one of the bulls was an old crusader, while the other was a youngster, and evidently trying to drive the old man out of the herd.

The old fellow's foot slipped, and the intelligence of the slight disaster seemed to burst upon his antagonist quicker than a flash of lightning. No gladiator ever urged his advantage more quickly. There was a sudden relaxation on the part of the young one, then a rush and a slipping of horns upon each other, followed by a raking, upward stroke, and the horn of the younger bull had torn the flank of the older fellow from the leg along the neck to the chin. It was not a fatal stroke but an exceedingly damaging one. Every time he was attacked the patriarch of the herd presented his war and weather-beaten head, but the youthful bison caught him again and again behind the shoulder until the blood was pouring in a perfect stream from the wound. With the agony of defeat in his eye, and growing weaker from the loss of blood, still the old fellow refused to be conquered. At last, with tongue hanging out and panting for breath, he stood at bay, defeated and conquered, but still disdaining to retreat. The young bull pushed and gored him, but he made no attempt to protect his flanks. The rest of the herd drew in closer, snorted and shook their heads, while the cows, who had always regarded him as the head of the family, spitefully butted him in the ribs and walked away. Some of the young bulls gave him a contemptuous dig, until I thought the poor fellow must have received a thousand wounds.

He stood dogged and defiant, whipped, but still obstinate, and gradually the herd wandered farther away and left him to himself. It was a sentence of banishment and the sentence read: "To go and live as long as he could alone, and fight his last fight with coyotes and wolves and die." He watched the herd grow fainter as it wandered father away and then turned his gaze in the opposit direction. Feeling his defeat keenly, without a friend in the world, covered with blood and disgrace, the poor old brute limped slowly, and sadly from the spot. He dared not return to the herd—for the cows will gore a defeated bull to death—so he wandered sorrowfully across the plains alone and disgraced, a beaten champion, sorely wounded, and about to die, until he was lost to view in the distance and dust of the prairie.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

FREE your stoves and flues from soot by throwing a piece of zinc on a bed of hot coals.

STEEL, when hardened, decreases in specific gravity, contracts in length, and increases in diameter.

A POULTICE of salt and the white of an egg is a powerful resolvent, and if applied in time, will disperse a felon.

A SOLDERING fluid composed of a teaspoonful of chloride of zinc dissolved in two ounces of alcohol will not rust and tarnish and has no bad smell.

SAWDUST thrown on a circular saw table will render the hauling of heavy planks quite easy. The grains act as small rollers and reduce friction.

PLASTER busts may be cleaned by dipping them into thick, liquid cold starch—that is clear starch mixed with cold water—brushing them when dry.

STEEL plates in the fire-box can be prevented from crackling by washing out with cold water after being blown out. Hot water will produce a crack.

IN the healing of burns and scalds, where there is danger of contracting scars, rub the new skin several times a day with good sweet oil. Persist in this rubbing until the skin is soft and flexible.

ACCORDING to a French industrial paper a mixture of oil an graphite will effectually prevent screws becoming fixed, and, moreover, protect them for years against rust. The mixture facilitates tightening up, is an excellent lubricant, and reduces the friction of the screw in its socket.

TO POLISH plate glass and remove slight scratches, rub the surface gently, first with a clean pad of white cotton wool, and afterward with a pad covered over with cotton velvet which has been charged with fine rouge. The surface will, under this treatment, acquire a polish of great brilliancy, quite free from any scratches.

A BELT has been known to refuse to do the work alloted to it, and continue to slip over pulleys two feet in diameter, but from the moment the pulleys were changed to three feet in diameter there was no further trouble. These observed facts seem to be at variance with and to contradict the results of the experiments that have been made.

Queer Things About Money.

A woman who bought an old-fashioned bureau at a second-hand store in Cincinnati discovered a secret drawer in it which contained $1,300 in gold and bank bills.

Money was so scarce in certain counties of Southwestern Texas during the earlier part of the winter that in some instances the skins of javelina hogs were used as a circulating medium, and 'possum skins were frequently offered in liquidation of grocery bills.

'Squire Royal, the tax collector of Taylor County, Pa., took out a well-worn overcoat to sell to an old-clothes man a few days ago, and found $100 in bills rolled up in a sheet of note-paper. The 'Squire is confident that the money is his own, but he has no recollection of having placed it in the pocket.

John Monroe, a young man living with his widowed sister in the northern part of Georgia, was digging a hole for a potato bin in his cellar the other day, when his spade broke open an earthern pot containing $1,480 in gold. The coin had been burried by his sister's husband during the war and subsequently forgotten.

A young farmer in Des Moines County, Iowa, who had saved up $200 in bank bills, wrapped a piece of paper around them and stuck the roll up the chimney in his bedroom for safe-keeping. One cold afternoon his mother put a stove in the room and built a rousing fire in it, and when the young man returned to supper only the charred remains of the notes could be found.

A lady living in Butler, Ga., through fear of the depredation of tramps, put $110 in bank-notes in a paste-board box and buried it in the yard near the woodpile. Some months afterwards she went out to get it, and found that the box and bills had been badly mutilated by wood-lice. She has sent the notes to the banks which issued them for redemption.

The pet cat belonging to Mrs. Lucy Cain of Hannibal, Mo., brought a mouse into the parlor and with it a small piece of paper money. Mrs. Cain thought nothing about the occurnece until one day last week, when she discovered that a roll of bills had been missing from her bureau drawer. Then she put two and two together and began a vigorous search of the premises. The missing bills were finally unearthed in a corner in the cellar, where a colony of mice had made a nest of them.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. ### Fishers' Superstitions.

Before very rough weather there occasionally comes a strange calm, a hush—like to nothing save the holding of a breath before a furious outburst of rage. It has a weird effect, coming, as it often does, at nightfall. After this a dull, wailing, muffled sound creeps out of the darkness—a sound as lamentation and entreaty heard from afar. "The sea is calling," they say here; and when this happens the fishermen expect a gale before morning.

When the sea has got hold of its prey, and there is a house or houses desolate in the village, they hold that it mourns, making quite a different sound to any other time.

About funerals there are odd observances and ideas. It is unlucky either to meet or cross a funeral train.

There are girls in the village who are sort of professional mourners (though unpaid) for children and young women who die unmarried. They are dressed in black, with white hoods, and shawls of white spun silk on their shoulders. Six of these mourners is the mystic number, and when one is married another is selected to fill her place. Probably it is considered a post of honor, for there never seems a vacancy, though I do not know how the selection is made. They are grave-looking damsels, so it may be by their fitting appearance.

At a young man's funeral there are only two of these girls, who walk before and are called "servers."

The Dissenters have a custom of singing a sort of dirge over their dead, not unlike in effect the chanting of the monks at a funeral in Rome. But when the sad duties are done comes a time of feasting. Their pride forbids them to have anything but a "menseful funeral." Another peculiarity is that when the people are asked to attend, it is by men and the girls named "bidders" (not necessarily relatives of the deceased).—Art Journal.

IN order to locate the body of a man drowned at Abbeyville, Ga., the other day, an old negro took a bundle of fodder and put it in the river where the man first sunk. It floated down about fifty yards and suddenly stopped and commenced to whirl slowly round and round. Here the old negro dived and secured the body. He claims to have recovered four or five other bodies by this means.

Peculiar in medicinal merit and wonderful cures—Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now is the time to take it, for now it will do the most good.

She Was Merciful.

"Why, I declare," said Mrs. Bjones, looking through a telescope, "the edge of the half-moon looks just like Hamburg edging. What perfectly lovely trimming that would make! But I won't ask you to buy it for me, Reginald, dear."

"No?" said Reginald, dear. "And why?"

"Oh," said Mrs. Bjones, "because it comes so high."—Somerville Journal.

RECORDER SMYTH, of New York, got mad when a verdict of acquittal was handed in to him, and remarked to the jury: "This verdict is absolutely inconsistent with the evidence. You are incompetent to sit as jurors in this court. You are discharged for the rest of the term."

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

Strengthen the System

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to make me over." J. P. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Eb. J. McDonald

In returning thanks to you for my miraculous cure of eczema or salt rheum, I deem it advisable to give you a detailed account of my case, and as there is and always will be a prejudice against advertised remedies, you have my consent to publish this testimonial, and all inquiries, by letter or in person, I will cheerfully answer. I do this that people who go on year after year paying out large sums of money to incompetent physicians and receive no cure, or even relief, or end in filling a premature grave, as was nearly my case, may be induced to make a trial of the wonderful Cuticura remedies.

At the age of three months a rash made its appearance on my face. A physician was called, he said teething was the cause, he prescribed some cooling medicine, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M. D. was called. He professed to know all about the case, called it "King's Evil," and prescribed gunpowder, brimstone and lard, mixed into a salve, but the disease continued. They could not do anything with it. Another prescribed borax water and flour; another, linseed poultices. None of them did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease continued unabated; it spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continual sitting on the floor on a pillow my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpless. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could get around the house on my hands and feet, but I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a sort of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were one scab, and I had to have a towel on my head all the time in the summer to keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician and surgeon here in Chicago (the other physicians before mentioned were of Dundas and Hamilton, Canada), he said he could do nothing for me, that the chances were that I would grow out of it, or that it would strike inwardly and kill me in time. He wanted to cut the sinews of my legs so that I could walk, but I would not let him, for if I did get better I would have no control of them.

The disease continued in this manner until I was seventeen years old, and one day in January, 1879, in the Chicago Tribune, I read an account of your medicines. They described my case so exactly that I thought, as a last resort, to give them a trial.

When I first applied the Cuticura, I was all raw and bleeding from scratching myself, but when I applied it I went to sleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing.

The first morning after using it my flesh (I had no skin only on the end of my nose was a pink color. Next day it was kind of white, and I could place my hands on the sores without being painful. In about two weeks I could stand straight, but not walk. I was so weak, but my sores were nearly well. Then I commenced the use of the Cuticura Resolvent, and in three days I was worse than ever. I was one mass of pimples from the top of my head to the soles of my feet; to say they were painful would not do justice to the case. In from two to four days they burst and left a small scale, which dropped off and left the spot pure and the skin white, and as near as I can judge I was cured in about six to eight weeks, and up to this date (i. e. from January, 1879, to January, 1887) I have not been sick in any way, or have hae the least signs of the disease reappearing on me. I have an excellent appetite, have the very best of health. My limbs are straight, supple, and strong. I have been exposed to all sorts of weather without the least signs of the disease yet. The only difference I find in myself is that my skin is finer, softer and not so liable to get chapped as is other persons.

No doubt many persons will not believe this almost improbable story; many will think it grossly exaggerated. I don't blame them a bit if they do, but to satisfy themselves they can call or write to me and find out if what I have written above is true or not. There are many persons can testify to the wonderful cure I have received by your Cuticura Remedies.

Gentlemen, let me again thank you for my cure.

FOUNDRYMEN, Miners and Mechanics, find the IVORY SOAP the best to wash up with after work is done. It removes dirt and grease quickly, and is easily rinsed off, leaving the skin soft and smooth. IVORY SOAP floats, so if dropped into the water is not lost, for it rises quickly to the top and floats like a chip. IVORY SOAP lasts long and costs but little.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MR. NELSON'S SUCCESSOR.

Mr. Platt J. Wise is Acting Sheriff and Will Kindly Manage the Office for Mrs. Nelson and Her Children.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen, the coroner, and ex-officio sheriff, this morning appointed Mr. Platt J. Wise as his assistant to conduct the office for the benefit of Mr. Nelson's family, giving them the profits over and above the stated salaries of Mr. Wise and his assistants during Dr. Dinnen's conduct of the position.

The county commissioners met this morning as gravel road directors and will transact no other business, so they say, until Mr. Neizer calls them together for another purpose. Then they will supply the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Platt J. Wise, in a manly way, offers to manage the sheriff's office for Mrs. Nelson and her orphan children, taking for himself and his assistants fixed salaries, so that the earnings and emoluments of the public trust may go to the family, as the legitimate fruits of DeGroff Nelson's work and victories.

This solution of the sad and unexpected circumstance meets with universal approval and THE SENTINEL knows that the county commissioners can win favor and fame that will halo their paths in life by naming Mr. Wise as Sheriff Nelson's successor, Every one will concede that he knows the office like a book and every one believes he can manage it to better advantage for the family than any other person. He is honest, most trustworthy, and the interests of the dead sheriff's loved ones are safe in his hands. This they know, and solicit his appointment.

Mr. Ed Clausmeyer, who has as many friends and followers as any aspirant for sheriff in the county, has not been a candidate for the appointment, but believes, with THE SENTINEL, that Mrs. Nelson and her children should reap the reward their devoted husband and farher earned for them, and now that Mr. Wise is their choice and so gallantly comes to their rescue, Mr. Clausmeyer is for him heart and soul.

HOW IS THIS.

The Fort Wayne Rifles Did Not Enter The National Drill.

A special telegram from Washington to the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The competing companies in the National drill to-day were company B of the First Virginia Regiment; The Nealy Rifles, of Maine; the National Bifles, of this city; the St. Paul Campany; Company A of the Fifth Rhode Island Regiment; Company I of the Second Michigan; the Bullene Guards, of Kansas City, and the Wooster City Guards, of Ohio. The Fort Wayne Rifles were one the program, but they did not put in an appearance. This closes the competition, but the decission will not be given till Monday evening." This is in contradiction of a telegram sent to this city by Captain Rawles and needs to be explained away.

Funeral of Sheriff DeGroff Nelson.

The funeral of the late Sheriff Nelson will occur to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the jail residence. Rev. W. N. Webbe, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, will conduct the religious services at the jail and from thence the cortege will proceed to Lindenwood cemetery.

The pall bearers are Dr. Geo. W. Loag, Capt. Scott Swann, Mr. George Ely, Mr. A. F. Glutting, Mr. O. B. Wiley and Mr. Harry Metzgar.

The court house offices are draped in mourning and expressions of sympathy for the grief stricken family are widespread and deep.

Mr. Nelson was a member of Sol D. Bayless lodge, and they will attend his funeral in carriages instead of as a society.

The Allen county bar and county officers met in the circuit court room this afternoon to arrange for attendance at Mr. Nelson's funeral.

CHINA has just furnished another illustration of the peculiar sensitiveness of Oriental Governments to foreign interference in their internal affairs. Hitherto the French Ambassador to that country has claimed the right to protect missionaries of all nations and creeds, and particularly those of the Catholic faith. Recently China wished to have these latter placed under the protection of the Pope, but France opposed the proposition so vigorously that the Vatican declined to send a nuncio to Pekin. The Chinese Government has now issued an order requiring foreign missionaries to provide themselves with passports from their own Governments. The diplomacy of western civilization is not always a match for the wily statecraft of the Orient.

The Language of Nails.

He who has white spots on his nails is fond of the society of ladies, but is fickle in his attachments. He who keeps them well rounded at the tips is a proud man. He whose nails are detached from the finger at the further extremities, and when cut showing a larger proportion of the finger than usual, ought never to get married, as it would be a wonder if he were master in his own house, for short nails betoken patience, good nature, and above all, resignation under severe trials.

Nails which remain long after being cut level with the finger end are a sign of generosity. Transparent nails with light red mark a cheerful, gentle, and amiable disposition. Lovers with transparent nails usually carry their passion to the verge of madness. If you come across a man with long and pointed nails you may take it for granted that he is either a player of the guitar, a tailor, or an attorney. He who keeps his nails somewhat long, round, and tipped with black is a romantic poet.

The owner of very round and smooth nails is of a peaceable and conciliatory disposition. He who has the nail of his right thumb slightly notched is a regular glutton, even nibbling at himself, as when having nothing eatable at hand, he falls to biting his own finger-nails. And, lastly, he who keeps his nails irregularly cut is lusty and determined. Men who have not the patience to cut their nails properly generally come to grief; most of them commit suicide or get married.—Baltimore News.

CHICAGO NEWS.

A Varied Batch From the Great City Of The West This Afternoon

—A Boot Race and a Big Strike.

CHICAGO, Ills., May 30.—The morning papers say the scalling events to take place to-day at Pullman are generally regarded as exhibitions instead of races for valuable stakes. A great effort is being made to attract a crowd and it will probably be successful. The first event will be two miles with turn between Fred Plaisted and George Bubear, the latter the champion of England. This will take place at 1 o'clock. Directly after its termination Hanlan and Gaudaur will appear. There is no betting because there is no money behind Hanlan.

About 5,000 German-American citizens, veterans of the war, soldiers and others, flocked to St. Boniface cemetery this morning. The object was to witness the unveiling of the soldiers monument, a beautiful work of marble and granite. It is the first monument raised in Chicago to the perpetuity of the heroic deeds of the German-American soldiers.

The next six days are liable to witness a critical period in the great strike of the building trades. For four weeks strike has followed strike, termination in a lock out affecting, to a greater or less extent, almost every trade in the city. Fully 17,000 men are idle, and, it is stated upon good authority, that over 1,000 first-class mechanics have left the city. A careful estimate shows that wages amounting to $90,000 have been lost to the strikers. It is impossible to estimate the amount of capital diverted from the building trades.

UNCONTROLLABLE FLAMES.

Fairmount, Ind., Threatened With Destruction by a Burning Gas Well.

WABASH, Ind., May 30.—At an early hour Saturday the watchman at the big gas well in Fairmount, entered the derrick with a lighted lantern. A terrific explosion occurred, the escaping gas having ignited. The explosion blew the cap off the pipe, and the flame from the six-inch tubing shot to an immense height.

The derrick and machinery were burned up in a few moments. James Payne, the watchman, and a companion named Rachel were dangerously burned. The town is threatened with destruction should a strong breeze start up. All attempts to control the flames have proven futile.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

MARION, Ind., May 30.—Saturday night at nine o'clock the night watchman at the gas well at Fairmount entered the derrick to see that all was well. A leak in the gas-pipe ignited from the lantern. An explosion occurred that shook the town, the cap blew off the pipe and the ignited flame leaped nearly a hundred feet high. The derrick was soon consumed. The gas is burning at the rate of 12,000,000 feet a day, and all efforts to subdue the flames have been unsuccessful. James Payne, the night watchman, was very seriously burned about the face, neck and hands.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 30.—Gustavus Wurgler, charged with the murder of David Culley, and whose trial occupied a week and more in the criminal court, the case going to the jury Thursday morning, escapes with light punishment, the sentence being six months in jail. The shooting occurred in August last, fronting the adjutant general's office, and was the outgrowth of a quarrel which originated during the encampment at Lafayette. Wurgler was a member of the Shepherd Rifles.

Death of Ben Perley Poore.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Major Ben Perley Poore died at the Ebbitt House in this city at half past twelve o'clock. It was reported yesterday morning that he was a shade better, but at 3 o'clock last evening he grew rapidly worse. The physicians were directly summoned, and a few friends sent for, but before the latter arrived he was dead. Major Poore had been a sufferer from Bright's disease for several years, which was the cause of his death.

Tariff Reform.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—A Washington dispatch says that Secretary Fairchild, by consent of the president and cabinet, is working up a concentration of the democratic senators and congressmen to effect reductions and reforms in the tariff system. The scheme is to prepare a bill meeting the approval of the administration, Randall, Carlisle and others, and then go before the people and into congress on that basis.

WHY THE PRINTERS DIDN'T WIN.

Benson's Egotism Causes Their Defeat —Partially Saved by That Other Printers' Nine.

A few weeks ago it was heralded all over the city that the printers and cigarmakers would play a game of ball. The event was set for Saturday and all had a blissful and hopeful appearance up to last Friday, when dissensions arose causing a disruption in the ranks of the club and the withdrawal of Manager Peg Miller, followed by the coterie of professionals that he was to lead to victory, including Captain McWhorter, Messrs. Moore, Evans, Kegg, Melsheimer, Ferguson, Perrin and others, thus leaving the game entirely in the hands of the "cranks" on the Journal, headed by Presumptuous Busse, Egotistic Benson and Girlish Henry Miller—no relative of Peg. They thought they could play ball but see how they got left.

Promptly at 3 o'clock the cigarmakers were on the field, at Ewing's grove, and Manager Benson, a few minutes later, appeared with his nine, which he had been practising in the new pound, in the rear of the jail, under the careful watch of Chief Dinil and the poundmaster, the former to run them in for tramps and the latter to save them from being trampled to death in the expected stampede of the cattle from the alleged "printers'" club.

Time was called at 3:15 p. m. with Busse for pitcher, Benson for catcher, and Cleary, Shober and Henry Miller on bases, and THE SENTINEL, Gazette and Newspaper Union printers, including Peg Miller's crack nine as spectators. Up to the fourth inning the score was a brilliant victory for the cigarmakers, Benson mulling every ball and Cleary and Henry Miller, who occupied first and third base, being as useless as mummies. The score now stood forty-three to one in favor of the cigarmakers, all was gloom with Shober and Busse, Benson could not be consoled, and they seemed ready to rush pell-mell from the grounds, when Cleary's face lit with a sudden smile, he whispered to Benson, and Benson and Busse rushed quickly to Manager Peg Miller, asking him hurriedly to play out the game with his experts and offering him cases on the Journal as a reward. He refused at first, but seeing a vision of the insane asylum for Benson, expulsion from the City band for Shober and dire consequences for the others, he sent his men in the field to play the fifth and last inning. The cigarmakers in this inning never made a base. Miller's nine of printers made home run after home run, the inning closed, the cigarmakers were shed but Captain McWhorter in one inning reduced the cigarmakers score from forty-three to one to forty-three to thirty. Don't think Benson's nine can play ball. Hereafter call on printers that can play. Kegg, Melsheimer, Moore and Ferguson did well; while Hy Perrin, Captain McWhorter and Evans won laurels, and Drummond and Baldock were fine. These last named gentlemen belong to P. Miller's Premium Printers' Base Ball club and played in the last inning. P. Miller's nine and the cigarmakers left the grove together all happy over Benson's defeat, while Benson's nine was driven to a stock car by a party of Texas cowboys and sent to New York as ungraded cattle.

ALMOST KILLED.

Fred. Upmeyer Sustains a Severe Fall At the Pennington Works.

This morning about half past 8 o'clock, Frederick Upmeyer, a carpenter, who has been for some time engaged in fitting up the new shops of the Pennington Machine Works, on East Columbia street, was assisting in placing a piece of machinery in position on the first floor near the back door. In order to get the necessary purchase in prying the machine up with a wooden beam, a strong plank was placed with one end resting in the back door and the other on a frame work about six feet from the door. Below the door is a frame shute leading down to the engine room. As Mr. Upmeyer was throwing his weight upon the beam he missed his footing on the plank, and instead of retaining his hold upon the beam as directed by a fellow workman, he let go and fell to the bottom of the shute, a distance of about eight feet, striking upon the left side of his head. He was picked up insensible and taken into the shop, and medical aid called in. An examination showed that the drum head of his left ear had been ruptured, and his ear was filled with blood. Recovering consciousness, Mr. Upmeyer was removed to the City hospital, where his wants will be attended to. The full extent of his injuries is not yet known, but the physicians do not believe that they are very serious.

FLOWERS FOR HEROES.

Elaborate Memorial Services at the Masonic Temple Yesterday—The Decoration Observances To-day.

The elaborate memorial services at the Temple opera house yesterday afternoon were of a character to inspire one with emotions for a reverential observance of this, Decoration Day.

Long before 3 o'clock yesterday every seat in the opera house was occupied, save those reserved for the Grand Army celebrants. Anthony Wayne post soon filed in and were assigned their places. Then came Sion S. Bass post 200 strong to occupy their seats.

The Grace Reformed church choir rendered an anthem and the hymn, "America;" Rev. F. F. Browne, of the Wayne street M. E. church, led in prayer; the Pinsuti quartet favored the assembly with a selection; Rev. J. C. Cromer read from the Scriptures and the choir and audience sang "Nearer My God to Thee," before Rev. D. C. Woolpert, of the Berry street M. E. church, began his address.

It was masterly and strong, plotting to the soldiers' a bravery, chivalry and nobility unsurpassed in history. He condemned, in clear words, the bitter attacks and misrepresentations recently heaped on the survivors of the war, prudently aiming a center shot at the Chicago Times. His words were golden with truths and pictures of the services of the defenders of the union and honor of their country.

General Gibson, of Ohio, a distinguished soldier, was present and being called on gave his comrades some praise and the audience an idea of the part played by the boys in blue from Ohio and Indiana in the civil war. He was very eulogistic of the Hoosier soldiers, their victories and never-failing presence and valor in all the great battles and struggles of the rebellion. He put into his hearers something of a war spirit and a reminder of duty to their dead comrades, so that after benediction by Rev. D. S. Kennedy, the audience left in a mood happy to do honor to the dead heroes to-day.

DECORATION DAY.

The delightful weather of yesterday, so fondly anticipated, did not arrive. The gay colors and brighter expectations were dampened considerably, to say the least, and what promised to be the greatest observance of Decoration in the history of the city, fell considerably short of such an event.

Unfortunately the morning opened with a rain shower and later the storm fixed itself in an attitude to continue all day. About noon the clouds began to break and it was almost 3 o'clock before the promoters of the patriotic cause could decide whether to go to the cemetery or conduct services at the Temple opera house.

A clear sky gave brighter assurances of fair weather, and a few moments before 3 o'clock the procession started for Lindenwood cemetery in the order named in the program already published.

Second Presbyterian Church Made Happy.

Yesterday was a good day for the Second Presbyterian church. Having been for some time without a pastor, the congregation became somewhat scattered and discouraged. In addition to this there was a debt of $825 hanging over the church. Under the present pastorate the congregation is increasing in numbers and interest every day and the whole church, realizing that it has a work to do, has gone to work with earnest spirit which means success. Although they have been almost straining themselves this spring in a financial way, yet they have been anxious to free the church of all indebtedness, and leave no hindrance in the way of progress. The board of trustees believed the time had come when the church must move forward, and that the people were willing to make still greater sacrifice. Hence an attempt was made yesterday to raise the amount of the indebtedness. The pastor preached on the subject, "Christ at the Contribution Box," and then an opportunity was given to meet Him there. This they did cheerfully and liberally, and in about fifteen minutes the subscription list amounted to $847:55, thus wiping out the debt, and leaving a surplus to begin a building fund. This was beyond the most sanguine expectations of all, and, with grateful hearts the church feels that the blessing of God is resting upon it.

As the church membership was not fully represented yesterday, an opportunity will be given those who were absent to add their contributions to the list now in the hands of the trustees, and thus a nucleus for a building fund will be formed.

DECORATION DAY.

How It is Observed In The Great Cities.

NEW YORK, May 30.—The streets in the lower parts of the city to-day were deserted and there was general suspension of business. All public buildings were closed; the post office was open till 10 o'clock and the streets in the vicinity of Union Square and Madison Square were crowded with pedestrians. A large number of people went to Riverside park and Gen. Grant's tomb. Thousands came from New Jersey and Brooklyn to witness the parade.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—All the banks, courts, chamber of commerce and public offices were closed on account of Decoration day. The G. A. R. posts paraded to the depot early this morning, where they took cars for Spring Grove, where Decoration service was observed. A heavy rain began to fall as the cemetery was reached and continued so as to prevent the carrying out of the program.

BALTIMORE, May 30.—Though not a legal holiday, Decoration day was generally observed. The graves in Green Mount, Western Baltimore, Laurel (colored) and others were decorated. Thousands visited the cemeteries. There seemed to be a greater desire than ever before to do honor to the dead soldiers.

SELLS' BIG SHOW COMING.

Brilliant and Novel Attractions!

A GRAND GALA DAY EVENT.

Sells Brothers, the famous millionaire showmen, have perfected arrangements for the appearance of their titanic tented aggregation in Fort Wayne, Thursday, June 16.

For years the Messrs. Sells have occupied the highest pinnacle in public esteem as liberal progressive amusement purveyors, and right royally have they merited the people's confidence and support. From all accounts their show of this season is the largest, most brilliant, comprehensive and sumptuous organization of their long and eminently successful career.

There is a double menagerie that teems with rare and costly zoological specimens. Gymnic and equestrian science depict themselves in three rings and on a huge theater stage; a soul stirring revival of the ancient Roman hippodrome, wherein sixty English and Kentucky thoroughbreds are brought into requisition, and Pawnee Bill's historical "Wild West" show, comprising troops of noted scouts, cowboys, Indians, vaqueros, bucking broncbos, and other adjuncts of frontier civilization. One of the features of Pawnee Bill's performances is an intensely vivid reproduction of "the Battle of the Little Big Horn," in which the heroic Custer lost his life. The redoubtable Sioux chief, "Rain-in-the-Face," will be one of the actors in this mimic battle scene. The hippodrome races and border representations take place on an enormous ellipse that encircles the rings and stage, and which enables the horses to attain the same degree of speed as on a regular race track.

Mr. Ira J. Bobilya went to Akron, O., to-day.

DROWNED HER BABE.

Sarah Jane Gunter Drops Her Child Into the St. Joe River to Hide Her Shame.

Some days ago THE SENTINEL called attention to the mysterious flight of Sarah Jane Gunter and the subsequent finding of the girl at the poor house, nursing her illigitimate babe.

Jonah Gunter, her father, who is a well-to-do Kosciusko county farmer, was grief-stricken at the discovery of his daughter's misfortune and shame, but once more offered his child the shelter of his home. She at once began preparations to go to the old homestead, and being penniless, she wrote Wm. McNulty, the alleged papa of her child, a saucy note ordering him to send a carriage to the asylum for herself and little one. The vehicle responded Friday and Miss Gunter and her charge came to the city.

The sad sequel is to follow. Fearing to take her babe with her to the scenes of her innocent childhood she decided to drown it. Following the St. Joe river, from the East Main street bridge, Saturday afternoon, she stopped at the bend, near Mr. Baker's residence, and in the ripples, a few blocks below Rudisills dam, she dropped her unnatural offspring into the river. The baby boy was but eight weeks old and without a cry was soon swallowed up in the swift current, under the eyes of its heartless mother, who had wrapped a fascinator about its head and face.

The body floated down stream a short distance and drifted to the shore, where Henry Stapleford found it.

Miss Gunter had striven to dispose of her child to Dr. and Mrs. Sites and at several other places, so that when the discovery was made it was easy to locate the crime and point suspiciously at the young woman, as she had been at Mrs. Swanson's residence, out on the St. Joe road, and stated she gave the baby to a farmer for adoption. From Mrs. Swanson she went to a Mrs. Noonan, on Dunk alley.

Coroner Dinnen was notified and ascertaining the woman's name sent for Supt. John Wilkinson, of the County Infirmary. It was learned that Miss Gunter, in company with McNulty, who is a shoemaker at 217 Lafayette street, sought lodging at the Washington house, corner of Calhoun and Washington streets, Saturday night.

From the Washington house Miss Gunter went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Smith, on Montgomery street. It was late and they kindly gave her lodging for the night. She denied having a child to them, and in the morning left, going direct to Mandel Franks' resort, on Hanna street, and at this place she was arrested.

She at first said the child accidentally fell from her arms, but on being pressed she admitted, amid sobs, her guilt and was accordingly locked up to await a hearing.

The girl is about twenty-four years of age and as she is subject to epileptic fits, insanity is pleaded in extenuation of her crime.

Miss Gunter was given a preliminary hearing before Justice Ryan at 3 o'clock and was bound over for trial.

MONDAY, MAY 30, 1887.

The first colored man ever elected Mayor of a town north of the Ohio River is Isaiah Tuppins, of Rockville, Ohio.

SENATOR CAMERON is too much of a dyspeptic to indulge epicurean tastes to any great extent, and after a substantial dinner is obliged to fortify his stomach against the inevitable pangs with something a good deal stronger than water.

IT has been settled at last that George Washington wore at his inauguration a dark-brown suit made at the first woolen mill ever established in America. His white silk stockings were also of home manufacture. Anglophobia did not prevail extensively in this country at that time.

CHIEF OF POLICE LEANDER BROWN, Madison, N. J., was recently made the father of triplets, and immediately gave them the names: Leander Cleveland, John Grover, and Leonora Frances, and then notified the President. An autograph letter expressed the thanks of the Executive.

ACCORDING to the British Chancellor of the Exchequer there are ninety-five persons in England with an income of over $300,000, or about $30 an hour. Yet it is said that these very wealthy people are really poor. Their responsibilities are always involving them in expenditures which it is difficult for them to meet. They manage their wealth, but not to enjoy it.

A PARTY of three hunters who were out after deer in Tehama County, California, a short time ago, found, while following a trail, that they were in turn being followed by a gang of six or seven mountain lions. They quickly beat a retreat, but the lions followed until they nearly reached their homes, sometimes coming within a rod or two of the party, but scampering at a shot.

A SOLID silver hatchet found recently in Sonora will soon adorn the museum of Princeton College. It weighs 100 ounces, or a little over eight pounds, and as bullion is valued at $1 an ounce. It is four inches in length, is wedge-shaped, and was evidently hammered by some prehistoric people. It was brought to San Francisco, and was purchased for $1.50 by Henry G. Marquand, who will present it to his college.

FREDERICK SCHMALZ, a London inventor, came to America about twelve years ago, and perfected several useful inventions. His first American patent was for enameling watch dials, now used by the Waltham Watch Company. Schmalz had an uncle in Metz who closely watched his progress. During the past ten years Schmalz amassed $2,000,000. Schmalz's progress so pleased his uncle that when he died he left him all his property of over $4,000,000 and several chateaux in France and over $1,500,000 worth of real estate in the Southern States.

A LOUISVILLE young man, who is traveling in Europe, writes to his people at home some points of his experiences in Scotland. He states his daily expenses for himself and companion do voyage at the Waverly Hotel, Glasgow, as follows: Bedroom, 24 cents; boots and service, 24 cents; breakfast, 54 cents; dinner, 48 cents; supper, 48 cents; total per diem, $2.98 for the two, against $3 to $4 at a Louisville hotel of like class for one person. Among his incidental price investigations he found that a "good" silk umbrella cost him $1.25, while the price of "a very fine one" was $2.30. Fine kid gloves for gentlemen were 50 cents a pair. The Glasgow street cars have stairways to the roof, and passengers have their choice of riding amidship or on the upper deck. The rains were continuous. A denizen being asked if it ever stopped raining, replied: "Yes, indeed; it sometimes snows!"

SECRETARY WHITNEY has decided to order the repair of the United States steamer Hartford, now at Mare Island, California. It is good to know that this historical old vessel, which was Farragut's flagship during the war of the Rebellion, is to be preserved for years to come. According to the appropriation of the last Congress of $200,000 for the repair of wooden vessels, the Hartford can have its share, as it has been decided that the repairs will not exceed 20 per cent. of the value of the ship. The old vessel is said to be good for many years of cruising yet, and it has borne such a noble part in the service of its country that every American will be glad to know that the Stars and Stripes are to float at its masthead for many years to come. The ship on which Farragut was nailed to the mast and which carried the great Commander through the stirring perils of some of the greatest naval combats of the war will always be a source of interest and pride to the patriotic people of this country. Like Old Ironsides, whose fame and memory are entwined in the history of his country, the Hartford should be kept as long as its timbers will hold together.

MONARCHS OF THE PLAINS.

A Determined Fight for the Mastery Between Two Buffalo Bulls.

(San Francisco Call.)

The most remarkable incident in my buffalo experience was a fight between two buffalo bulls over on the Cannonball River in Dakota, and of which I was the sole and lucky witness. I was riding slowly up a knoll thinking of anything but buffaloes, when I heard the most awful bellowing and crashing just ahead, as if all pandemonium had turned loose to scare me out of my five senses. My horse reared and plunged, but quickly dismounting I lariated my steed, and between creeping and crawling managed to secure a safe observatory from which I could view the circus then in progress. Two powerful buffalo bulls were going it hammer-and-tongs in furious efforts to butt each other's brains out. They had a little arena all to themselves, the rest of the herd forming a circle around, watching but not interfering, but waiting to drive the vanquished from the field in disgrace. Talk about your bullfights in Spain, your 1,000-pound bulls battling with little matadors. No arena of ancient Spain, or Roma, or modern Mexico ever had two such fierce combatants face to face, nor has the fog of war and the fight for mastery ever been so determined and fierce as between those two monarchs of the plains on the Cannonball River. There had only been one crash before I took my reserved seat, but the concussion and crack of the blow might have been heard a mile. The fun had only just begun. After the first whack the two champions sort of backed and eyed each other for a second crash. Then they lowered their heads, pawed the ground viciously for a few seconds, and came back at each other like a pair of freight-trains coming from opposite direction on the same track. When the heads came together this time it was with a dull thump which led me to believe one or both craniums had been cracked on the first round. There they stuck the two heads—and then both bulls began to push with all their might. The dogged, stubborn pushing lasted some minutes, until the white froth began to drop in long, tenacious strings from their lips, and the red eyes to glare through what appeared to be clots of blood. Somebody was hurt, for the crimson was dyeing the white froth as it fell to the ground. This dead set of strength could not last long. The tendons were standing out like ropes across the thighs and along the thick necks, and every moment was telling upon the short wind and straining of both antagonists. Although much of a size, I could see that one of the bulls was an old crusader, while the other was a youngster, and evidently trying to drive the old man out of the herd.

The old fellow's foot slipped, and the intelligence of the slight disaster seemed to burst upon his antagonist quicker than a flash of lightning. No gladiator ever urged his advantage more quickly. There was a sudden retraction on the part of the young one, then a rush and a slipping of horns upon each other, followed by a raking, upward stroke, and the horn of the younger bull had torn the flank of the older fellow from the leg along the neck to the chin. It was not a fatal stroke but an exceedingly damaging one. Every time he was attacked the patriarch of the herd presented his war and weather-beaten head, but the youthful bison caught him again and again behind the shoulder until the blood was pouring in a perfect stream from the wound. With the agony of defeat in his eye, and growing weaker from the loss of blood, still the old fellow refused to be conquered. At last, with tongue hanging out and panting for breath, he stood at bay, defeated and conquered, but still disdaining to retreat. The young bull pushed and gored him, but he made no attempt to protect his flanks. The rest of the herd drew in closer, snorted and shook their heads, while the cows, who had always regarded him as the head of the family, spitefully butted him in the ribs and walked away. Some of the young bulls gave him a contemptuous dig, until I thought the poor fellow must have received a thousand wounds.

He stood jagged and defiant, whipped, but still obstinate, and gradually the herd wandered farther away and left him to himself. It was a sentence of banishment and the sentence read: "To go and live as long as he could alone, and fight his last fight with coyotes and wolves and die." I watched the herd grow fainter as it wandered farther away and then turned his gaze in the opposit direction. Feeling his defeat keenly, without a friend in the world, covered with blood and disgrace, the poor old brute limped slowly, and sadly from the spot. He dared not return to the herd—for the cows will gore a defeated bull to death—so he wandered sorrowfully across the plains alone and disgraced, a beaten champion, sorely wounded, and about to die, until he was lost to view in the distance and dust of the prairie.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

FREE your stoves and fires from soot by throwing a piece of zinc on a bed of hot coals.

STEEL, when hardened, decreases in specific gravity, contracts in length, and increases in diameter.

A POULTICE of salt and the white of an egg is a powerful resolvent, and if applied in time, will disperse a felon.

ASPHALTUM dissolved in oil of turpentine is recommended as one of the best varnishes for smoke-stacks and steam-pipes.

A SOLDERING fluid composed of a teaspoonful of chloride of zinc dissolved in two ounces of alcohol will not rust and tarnish and has no bad smell.

SAWDUST thrown on a circular saw table will render the hauling of heavy planks quite easy. The grains act as small rollers and reduce friction.

PLASTER busts may be cleaned by dipping them into thick, liquid cold starch—that is clear starch mixed with cold water—brushing them when dry.

STEEL plates in the fire-box can be prevented from crackling by washing out with cold water after being blown out. Hot water will produce a crack.

SIX parts of sulphur, six of white lead and one of borax, thoroughly mixed and wetted with strong sulphuric acid, make a strong cement for connecting iron work.

IN the healing of burns and scalds, where there is danger of contracting scars, rub the new skin several times a day with good sweet oil. Persist in this rubbing until the skin is soft and flexible.

ACCORDING to a French industrial paper a mixture of oil an graphite will effectually prevent screws becoming fixed, and, moreover, protect them for years against rust. The mixture facilitates tightening up, is an excellent lubricant, and reduces the friction of the screw in its socket.

TO POLISH plate glass and remove slight scratches, rub the surface gently, first with a clean pad of white cotton wool, and afterward with a pad covered over with cotton velvet which has been charged with fine rouge. The surface will, under this treatment, acquire a polish of great brilliancy, quite free from any scratches.

A BELT has been known to refuse to do the work allotted to it, and continue to slip over pulleys two feet in diameter, but from the moment the pulleys were changed to three feet in diameter there was no further trouble. Those observed feats seem to be at variance with and to contradict the results of the experiments that have been made.

Having in our official capacity as members of the Plymouth Hospital committee been asked to test and prove the effectiveness of many different articles to be used as disinfectants in sickrooms and as preventatives of infectious fevers, report that Darbys Prophylactic Fluid has been thoroughly tested during the recent Typhoid epidemic in this place. It proved most efficacious in staying the spread of the fever.

Queer Things About Money.

A woman who bought an old-fashioned bureau at a second-hand store in Cincinnati discovered a secret drawer in it which contained $1,300 in gold and bank bills.

Money was so scarce in certain counties of Southwestern Texas during the earlier part of the winter that in some instances the skins of javelina hogs were used as a circulating medium, and 'possum skins were frequently offered in liquidation of grocery bills.

Squire Royal, the tax collector of Taylor County, Pa., took out a woollen overcoat to sell to an old-clothes man a few days ago, and found $100 in bills rolled up in a sheet of note-paper. The Squire is confident that the money is his own, but he has no recollection of having placed it in the pocket.

John Monroe, a young man living with his widowed sister in the northern part of Georgia, was digging a hole for a potato bin in his cellar the other day, when his spade broke on an earthern pot containing $1,480 in gold. The coin had been hurried by his sister's husband during the war and subsequently forgotten.

A young farmer in Des Moines County, Iowa, who had saved up $200 in bank bills, wrapped a piece of paper around them and stuck the roll up the chimney in his bedroom for safe-keeping. One cold afternoon his mother put a stove in the room and built a roaring fire in it, and when the young man returned to supper only the charred remains of the notes could be found.

A lady living in Butler, Ga., through fear of the depredation of tramps, put $110 in bank-notes in a paste-board box and buried it in the yard near the woodpile. Some months afterwards she went out to get it, and found that the box and bills had been badly mutilated by wood-lice. She has sent the notes to the banks which issued them for redemption.

The pet cat belonging to Mrs. Lucy Cain of Hannibal, Mo., brought a mouse into the parlor and with it a small piece of paper money. Mrs. Cain thought nothing about the occurrence until one day last week, when she discovered that a roll of bills had been missing from her bureau drawer. Then she put two and two together and began a vigorous search of the premises. The missing bills were finally unearthed in a corner in the cellar, where a colony of mice had made a nest of them.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Five hundred people are at Acton camp ground to-day to attend the election of officers. The grounds are in fine condition.

Fishers' Superstitions.

Before very rough weather there occasionally comes a strange calm, a lull—like to nothing save the holding of a breath before a furious outburst of rage. It has a weird effect, coming, as it often does, at nightfall. After this a dull, wailing, muffled sound creeps out of the darkness—a sound as lamentation and entreaty heard from afar. "The sea is calling," they say here; and when this happens the fishermen expect a gale before morning.

When the sea has got hold of its prey, and there is a house or houses desolate in the village, they hold that it mourns, making quite a different sound to any other time.

About funerals there are odd observances and ideas. It is unlucky either to meet or cross a funeral train.

There are girls in the village who are sort of professional mourners (though unpaid) for children and young women who die unmarried. They are dressed in black, with white hoods, and shawls of white spun silk on their shoulders. Six of these mourners is the mystic number, and when one is married another is selected to fill her place. Probably it is considered a post of honor, for there never seems a vacancy, though I do not know how the selection is made. They are grave-looking damsels, so it may be by their fitting appearance.

At a young man's funeral there are only two of these girls, who walk before and are called "servers."

The Dissenters have a custom of singing a sort of dirge over their dead, not unlike in effect the chanting of the monks at a funeral in Rome. But when the sad duties are done comes a time of feasting. Their pride forbids them to have anything but a "mensaful funeral." Another peculiarity is that when the people are asked to attend, it is by men and the girls named "bidders" (not necessarily relatives of the deceased).—Art Journal.

IN ORDER to locate the body of a man drowned at Abbeyville, Ga., the other day, an old negro took a bundle of fodder and put it in the river where the man first sank. It floated down about fifty yards and suddenly stopped and commenced to whirl slowly round and round. Here the old negro dived and secured the body. He claims to have recovered four or five other bodies by this means.

Peculiar in medicinal merit and wonderful cures—Hood's Sarsaparilla. Now is the time to take it, for now it will do the most good.

She Was Merciful.

"Why, I declare," said Mrs. Bjones, looking through a telescope, "the edge of the half-moon looks just like Hamburg edging. What perfectly lovely trimming that would make! But I won't ask you to buy it for me, Reginald, dear."

"No?" said Reginald, dear. "And why?"

"Oh," said Mrs. Bjones, "because it comes so high."—Somerville Journal.

Benjamin Smith, of New York, got mad when a verdict of acquittal was handed in to him, and remarked to the jury: "This verdict is absolutely inconsistent with the evidence. You are incompetent to sit as jurors in this court. You are discharged for the rest of the term."

That Tired Feeling

The warm weather has a debilitating effect, especially upon those who are within doors most of the time. The peculiar, yet common, complaint known as "that tired feeling," is the result. This feeling can be entirely overcome by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gives new life and strength to all the functions of the body.

"I could not sleep; had no appetite. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon began to sleep soundly; could get up without that tired and languid feeling; and my appetite improved." R. A. SANFORD, Kent, Ohio.

Strengthen the System

Hood's Sarsaparilla is characterized by three peculiarities: 1st, the combination of remedial agents; 2d, the proportion; 3d, the process of securing the active medicinal qualities. The result is a medicine of unusual strength, effecting cures hitherto unknown. Send for book containing additional evidence.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla tones up my system, purifies my blood, sharpens my appetite, and seems to strike me over." J. T. THOMPSON, Register of Deeds, Lowell, Mass.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla beats all others, and is worth its weight in gold." I. BARRINGTON, 130 Bank Street, New York City.

Agents for Dunlap's Celebrated Hats

In returning thanks to you for my miraculous cure of eczema or salt rheum, I feel it advisable to give you a detailed account of my case, and as there is and always will be a prejudice against patent medicines, you have my consent to publish this testimonial, and all inquiries, by letter or in person, I will cheerfully answer. I do this that people who go on year after year paying out large sums of money to incompetent physicians and receive means, or even relief, or find in filling a premature grave, as was nearly my case, may be induced to make a trial of the wonderful Cuticura remedies.

At the age of three months a rash made its appearance on my face. A physician was called, he said teething was the cause, he prescribed some soothing medicine, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M. D. was called. He pronounced it "scald head," and prescribed sulphur, brimstone and lard, mixed into a salve, but the disease continued. They could not do anything with it. Another prescribed Iodide of Potash, another Blood Purifiers. None of them did me any good at all, but made me worse. The disease continued unabated it spread to my arms and legs, till I was laid up entirely, and from continual rotting on the floor on a pillow my limbs contracted so that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpless. My mother would have to lift me out and into bed. I could get around the house on my hands and feet, but I could not get my clothes on at all, and had to wear a part of dressing gown. My hair had all matted down or fallen off, and my head, face and ears were one scab, and I had to have my head on my head all the time in the summer to keep the flies off. My parents consulted a prominent physician and surgeon here in Chicago (the other physicians before mentioned were of Dundas and Hamilton, Canada), he said he could do nothing for me, that the chances were that I would grow out of it, and that it would strike inwardly and kill me in time. I contracted out the sickness of my legs so that I could walk, but I would not let them, for if I did get better I would have no control of them.

The disease continued in this manner until I was seventeen years old, and one day in January, 1880, in the Chicago Tribune, I read an account of your medicines. They described my case so exactly that I thought, as it had no cost, to give them a trial.

When I first applied the Cuticura, I was all raw and bleeding from scratching myself, and when I applied it I was asleep almost immediately, something I had not done for years, the effect was so soothing.

The first application of the CUTICURA was to my head (I had no skin only on the end of my nose was a pink color. Next day it was kind of white, and I could place my hands on the sores without it being painful. In a week's time my head could stand straight, but not walk. I was so weak, but my sores were nearly well. Then I commenced the use of the Cuticura Resolvent, and in three days I was sweet than ever. I was one mass of pimples from the top of my head to the soles of my feet; to say they were painful would not do justice to the case. In from two to four days they burst and left a small scale, which dropped off and left the spot pure and the skin white, and to-day I can judge I was cured in about six to eight weeks, and up to this date (i. e. from January, 1879, to January, 1887) have not been sick in any way, or have had the least signs of the disease reappearing on me. I have an excellent appetite, have the very best of health. My limbs are straight, supple, and strong. I have been exposed to all sorts of weather without the least signs of a return, because yet. The only difference I find in myself is that my skin is finer, softer and not so liable to get chapped as in other persons.

No doubt many persons will not believe this almost improbable story; many will think it grossly exaggerated. I don't blame them a bit for doubting, but to satisfy themselves they can call or write to me and find out if what I have written about is true or not. There are many persons can testify to the wonderful cures I have received by your Cuticura Remedies.

A gentlemen, let me again thank you for my cure.

DR. MUNHALL.

FOUNDRYMEN, Miners and Mechanics, find the Ivory Soap the best to wash up with after work is done. It removes dirt and grease quickly, and is easily rinsed off, leaving the skin soft and smooth. Ivory Soap floats, so if dropped into the water is not lost, for it rises quickly to the top and floats like a chip. Ivory Soap lasts long and costs but little.

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'Ivory'," they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.

MR. NELSON'S SUCCESSOR.

Mr. Platt J. Wise is Acting Sheriff and Will Kindly Manage the Office for Mrs. Nelson and Her Children.

Dr. J. M. Dinnen, the coroner, and ex-officio sheriff, this morning appointed Mr. Platt J. Wise as his assistant to conduct the office for the benefit of Mr. Nelson's family, giving them the profits over and above the stated salaries of Mr. Wise and his assistants during Dr. Dinnen's conduct of the position.

The county commissioners met this morning as gravel road directors and will transact no other business, so they say, until Mr. Neizer calls them together for another purpose. Then they will supply the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Nelson.

Mr. Platt J. Wise, in a manly way, offers to manage the sheriff's office for Mrs. Nelson and her orphan children, taking for himself and his assistants fixed salaries, so that the earnings and emoluments of the public trust may go to the family, as the legitimate fruits of DeGroff Nelson's work and victories.

This solution of the sad and unexpected circumstance meets with universal approval and THE SENTINEL knows that the county commissioners can win favor and fame that will halo their paths in life by naming Mr. Wise as Sheriff Nelson's successor. Every one will concede that he knows the office like a book and every one believes he can manage it to better advantage for the family than any other person. He is honest, most trustworthy, and the interests of the dead sheriff's loved ones are safe in his hands. This they know, and solicit his appointment.

Mr. Ed Clausmeyer, who has as many friends and followers as any aspirant for sheriff in the county, has not been a candidate for the appointment, but believes, with THE SENTINEL, that Mrs. Nelson and her children should reap the reward their devoted husband and father earned for them, and now that Mr. Wise is their choice and so gallantly comes to their rescue, Mr. Clausmeyer is for him heart and soul.

HOW IS THIS.

The Fort Wayne Rifles Did Not Enter The National Drill.

A special telegram from Washington to the Cincinnati Enquirer says: "The competing companies in the National drill to-day were company B of the First Virginia Regiment; The Nealy Rifles, of Maine; the National Rifles, of this city; the St. Paul Company; Company A of the Fifth Rhode Island Regiment; Company I of the Second Michigan; the Ballens Guards, of Kansas City, and the Worster City Guards, of Ohio. The Fort Wayne Rifles were one the program, but they did not put in an appearance. This closes the competition, but the decision will not be given till Monday evening." This is in contradiction of a telegram sent to this city by Captain Rawles and needs to be explained away.

Funeral of Sheriff DeGroff Nelson.

The funeral of the late Sheriff Nelson will occur to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock from the jail residence. Rev. W. N. Webbe, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, will conduct the religious services at the jail and from thence the cortego will proceed to Lindenwood cemetery.

The pall bearers are Dr. Geo. W. Long, Capt. Scott Swann, Mr. George Ely, Mr. A. F. Glutting, Mr. O. B. Wiley and Mr. Harry Metzgar.

The court house offices are draped in mourning and expressions of sympathy for the grief stricken family are widespread and deep.

Mr. Nelson was a member of Sol D. Bayless lodge, and they will attend his funeral in carriages instead of as a society.

The Allen county bar and county officers met in the circuit court room this afternoon to arrange for attendance at Mr. Nelson's funeral.

China has just furnished another illustration of the peculiar sensitiveness of Oriental Governments to foreign interference in their internal affairs. Hitherto the French Ambassador to that country has claimed the right to protect missionaries of all nations and creeds, and particularly those of the Catholic faith. Recently China wished to have these latter placed under the protection of the Pope, but France opposed the proposition so vigorously that the Vatican declined to send a nuncio to Pekin. The Chinese Government has now issued an order requiring foreign missionaries to provide themselves with passports from their own Governments. The diplomacy of western civilization is not always a match for the wily statecraft of the Orient.
